THE NALSAR IPM 2023-28

DEPT. OF MANAGEMENT STUDIES

FROM THE VC'S DESK

It is my pleasure to present to you the Integrated Program in Management (IPM) of the Department of Management Studies (DoMS), that has been consistently garnering plaudits from people of various walks of life.

Since its inception, NALSAR has been working relentlessly in producing leaders who display high levels of professional will and personal humility. It is the one of the very few programs in this country to offer the best of interdisciplinary courses at a graduate level.

The members of NALSAR fraternity firmly believe that young minds of this day and age are highly motivated to acquire knowledge and capabilities that can shape society. Our mission is to develop such leaders through our collaborative and conducive learning atmosphere. The university encourages students to continuously engage with the best intellectual, cultural and scientific resources which will help students in developing a competitive temperament required to combat the challenges of the business world.

With the pandemic bringing in its share of recent changes, one cannot deny that the current macro environment is unpredictable, hazy, and far from normalcy. We are faced with unconventional challenges which demand out-of-the-box thinking and stepping outside our comfort zone. This necessitates the fact that businesses require leaders who possess the professional will and personal humility to navigate through this challenging environment. This program will definitely nurture its students into level-5 leaders who will be instrumental in combatting these uncertainties and contribute to the development of relevant stakeholders.

Wishing you the best.

Vice-Chancellor
